Constance CAMPION

Constance Campion gave a very inspiring talk to the secretaries in June 2008 on "How to get the best out of your consultant" and we are delighted that she has agreed to return to talk to us. This time her enthusiasm and experience will address the world of beauty therapy.

You may remember she is a prolific City analyst with a niche expertise in medical enterprise. Before Wall Street discovered private medical practice, Constance Campion was actively involved in developing the field through writing and consulting internationally from London. Her 20 years in the arena demonstrates her belief in and her commitment to patients and physicians being at the heart of a culture of ethical medical enterprise. A seasoned expert in terms of her combined training and experience, she is best known for her knowledge and in-depth analytical grasp of clinical, corporate and educational affairs in her specialist arena. Her qualities as an authority on consultants extends furthest due to the qualified privilege she has gained in her capacity as the long-suffering wife of a consultant plastic surgeon. Constance is known as an educational and entertaining speaker. You won't be bored during this lecture!
